MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL.

VOLUME XV. MILWAUKEE, THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 11, 1858. NUMBER 59.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 11.

TO ADVERTISERS.

☞ Business Notices appearing in the Local Columns will be charged 25 cents per line for the first and 15 cents for each subsequent insertion.

☞ Transient Advertisements must be paid for invariably in advance.

☞ The number of insertions must in all cases be specified on the copy when handed in, as no "till forbid" Advertisements will be taken.

☞ Yearly Advertisers will be held strictly to Advertisements pertaining to their business. All other Notices will be charged at the Regular Rates.

☞ Extra displayed Advertisements, and those with large cuts, will be charged by the square for each insertion.

☞ Ordinary Notices of Deaths and Marriages inserted for twenty-five cents. Obituary Notices will be charged by the square.

The News.

We have some later advices from Europe by the steamer Canada at Halifax. The most important feature of the news is the resignation of the British Ministers, who were recently beaten in the House of Commons on a bill, aimed at French Refugees in England, and introduced by Lord PALMERSTON at the instance of Louis NAPOLEON. The Earl of Derby heads the new Ministry. Three of the conspirators, engaged in the recent attempt to assassinate the French Emperor, have been convicted and sentenced to death. There is nothing later from India or China. The English Breadstuff Market was quiet, Provisions dull and Money easy.

New Hampshire opened the political ball for 1858 in splendid style on Tuesday. This staunch old Democratic State elects the Republican ticket by a most decisive majority. This is the first note of the Popular response to Mr. Buchanan's adoption and endorsement of the Lecompton Villainy.

From Washington, we learn that the Senate has confirmed Mr. Cook, as Postmaster at Chicago, to spite Mr. DOUGLAS, and that the House has passed the bill authorizing the President to call Volunteer Regiments into service. Kansas still occupies much of the time and attention of both Houses.

An immense embezzlement was discovered in New York yesterday, Mr. H. R. BROTHERS, principal book keeper of the Union Bank, having defrauded that institution of one hundred thousand dollars.

Not much of interest transpired in the Legislature yesterday. The Senate passed the bill for the re-organization of the militia. It will doubtless pass the Assembly also, and become a law.

The New York Produce market is without material change. Money continues very easy and plenty. Stocks, under the influence of the foreign news, were firm. Our market yesterday showed an improved feeling. Wheat is in active demand at slightly higher rates.

The weather continues mild, bright and spring-like. The ice, however, still holds firm in the river. There is every prospect of early navigation.

☞ Tax-Payers' Meeting To-Night! An adjourned meeting of the TAX-PAYERS of our City is to be held at Albany Hall this (Thursday) evening, to take action upon the various recommendations of the Committee heretofore appointed. The Report of that Committee, published several weeks since, must have abundantly satisfied every reader of the Sentinel that the grossest abuse, carelessness and extravagance has characterized the administration of our City affairs, for some years past, and that an imperious necessity exists for RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM. It is not only important that our City Charter should be so amended as to place more efficient checks upon the City affairs and additional guards about the City Treasury, but that henceforth men should be chosen to fill the different posts in the City administration who are competent to the discharge of their duties and will faithfully acquit themselves of their trusts.

If the Tax-payers of Milwaukee are not yet tired of being, year by year, unmercifully fleeced by the hungry tribe of tax-eaters, they have but to fold their arms, shut their eyes, and give these harpies a new lease of power. But if they think that they have bled long enough, let them resolve to put an effectual stop to this depleting process.

Come then, ONE AND ALL, to the meeting at Albany Hall to-night, and unite in a vigorous effort to reform the administration, restore the credit and promote the interests of Milwaukee!

A NEW RECOMMENDATION.—The New York Observer says:

We saw a letter the other day which a gentleman coming to town, presented to a mercantile house. It was a sealed letter of introduction and read as follows:

"Dear Sir—The bearer of this letter, Mr. Jas. B. Smith, goes to New York to purchase goods. I can recommend him as good for all he pays cash for. Yours truly,

S. P. JONES.

We understand that since the revulsion, letters of this description are considered "A 1," and command the very highest degree of confidence.

THE CHICAGO POST OFFICE.—COOK CONFIRMED. The Chicago papers of yesterday morning state that a telegraphic despatch had been received from ISAAC COOK, announcing his confirmation, by the U. S. Senate, as Postmaster of that city. The President has thus succeeded in his first blow at Senator DOUGLAS and other Democratic dissentients on the Lecompton issue.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT ON THE GALENA R. R.—As the DeKalb passenger train, was passing Mill Creek bridge, three miles west of Geneva, a wheel of the forward engine truck broke, throwing the engine off the track and precipitating it from the bridge, a depth of some fifteen feet.—Happily the tender and remainder of the train, from the breaking of the connections, remained on the track, or the injuries and probable loss of life would have been much greater. As it was, the engineer and fireman were so severely crushed that they will hardly recover.—Chicago Press, March 10.

☞ ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—A St. George's Society has been formed in this city, for the purpose of relieving their brethren in distress.—The officers of the Society are:

President—Thomas Hatchard, M. D.
Vice President—H. B. Hardy.
Secretary—Geo. Southwell, Esq.
Chaplain—Rev. D. Keene.

The meetings are held at present at the studio of Messrs. Brooks & Stevenson, the first Monday in each month.

We are glad to chronicle the organization of such a society. The object is a noble one, and the character of the officers of this Society is a guaranty that it will not soon be forgotten.

FIRE AT MANITOWOC.—A destructive fire occurred at Manitowoc on the evening of the 4th instant. The Manitowoc Tribune says:

The losses will be as follows: Perry, Smalley & Co., $1,000, in Patterns, Machines, &c., including a new Shingle Machine just finished for Smith & Jones, of this village. Wm. Sharp, about $1,200; saved a portion of his tools and nearly all his furniture. Mr. Olson, about $600; saved the largest portion of his furniture. No insurance.

CITY REFORM—PLAN OF PROCEEDINGS.—We invite the attention of all our readers, who are in favor of Retrenchment and Reform in our Municipal affairs, to the plan, published in this morning's Sentinel, of the German Reformers, to secure the nomination of honest, capable and trustworthy men to the various City and Ward Offices. The subject deserves and should receive the earnest consideration of all good citizens.

The Coming Charter Election—The Plan of Action adopted by the Reformers.

(From the Grad Aus.)

NO MORE CAUCUSSES.—The city committee appointed at a reform meeting in October last, consisting of nine members, one from each ward of this city, met on Friday and Saturday, the 26th and 27th days of January, to deliberate about the manner of organizing the party for the next Charter Election, in a way that (according to the first principle of the Reform party, "everything as much as possible through the people themselves,") a nomination for the different city offices may be made, not by delegates, or conventions consisting of delegates, but by the electors themselves. Caucusses for the election of delegates can easily be packed in favor of certain persons, as experience has shown a thousand times. Delegates can be bought, and whole conventions may be corrupted; but to bribe the masses, if they are making direct nominations at one and the same hour, in the different wards, is certainly a difficult task.

A motion to call a mass meeting of all the electors, for the purpose of making the nominations, was considered impracticable, and hence the following plan was adopted:

Those of the citizens who intend to be candidates for offices, are requested to make it known either by advertising in the papers, or by their friends, so that people will have a chance to make themselves acquainted with the character of the candidates.

A certain time before election, on different days, a meeting will be held in each ward, to hear the candidates who may present themselves to the people, and to speak about their qualifications, so that every elector shall be able to judge for himself.

Fourteen days before election, the nominations for the different ward and city offices will be made by ballot in all the wards at the same hour, so as to destroy the influence of wire-pullers, and prevent illegal voting.

For the purpose of calling these meetings, a Ward Committee of three in each ward shall be either elected by the people of the different wards, or, where necessary, appointed by the city Central Committee.

It will be the duty of these Ward Committees to canvass the votes given for each candidate, in their respective wards, and to make a return, the correctness of which they will guarantee upon a true honor of their members. The next following day after the nominations in the various wards are made, the Ward Committees will meet, canvass the votes cast, and that candidate for each ward who has received the most votes, shall be the nominee of the people.

At this Charter Election, at which the principal aim shall be to find out the true will of the majority of the citizens, and put of which nothing can accrue, neither for Kansas nor the negroes, no distinction of parties shall be made.—The citizens in general shall express their wishes at this nomination, in opposition to the desire and intrigues of that little clique which, till now, has governed the people despotically, and which by the medium of caucusses and conventions, has misrepresented the expression of the will of the citizens, and which has enriched itself at their cost.

After this plan was adopted at the meeting of the Central Committee, the members were requested to get the Ward Committees in their respective wards elected, and agreed that they should meet in a general meeting on the evening of the 3rd day of March, to examine, discuss, change, or adopt the plan given above.

The meeting of the Ward Committees was held on the day appointed, and, with a few exceptions, attended to in full number. The plan given by the Central Committee was, after a spirited discussion of three hours, approved, and the necessary arrangements made about time and suitable places for the Ward meetings.

The members of the different Committees are:

CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

1st Ward—Capt Bast; 2d Ward, C. Sabr; 3d Ward, T. Carney; 4th Ward, O. Ruppius; 5th Ward, J. Spuhler; 6th Ward, Schlocmileh; 7th Ward, T. H. Grove; 8th Ward, N. Ullmann; 9th Ward, A. C. Oron.

WARD COMMITTEES.

1st Ward, A. Argus, M. Thomas, Fr. Heine.
2d " Not yet elected.
3d " John Savage, J. Dolan, J. Wanke.

8th " " Noldon's, March 15.
9th " " Reinel's March 16.

The day for the meetings to make nominations for the different City and Ward offices shall be on the 23d inst.

P. S.—The above meeting has been postponed until further notice.

THE OLD AMERICA MASQUE BALL.—The Old America Mozzidorido Ball, at Light Guard Armory on Tuesday night, was one of the pleasantest parties of the season. There were as many in attendance, as the Hall could conveniently accommodate, and all joined in the dance, which was kept up rather later than the usual hour, this being the closing party for the present season.—The "married people" made themselves particularly agreeable, and indeed appeared determined not to be excelled by the youngsters in joviality. The guests all unmasked after midnight, and then there was some right hearty laughing over the "sells" that had been perpetrated during the evening. There were some beautiful costumes worn, and most of the numerous characters represented, well carried out. We will not allude to any particular characters, lest we should do injustice to others, by not speaking of them also. We cannot, however, refrain from saying a word about the old lady, Mrs. Partington. Her disguise was complete and baffled the scrutinizing glances of her most intimate acquaintances.—She was a perfect gem, in her way, and made more fun than forty. No doubt, all who helped themselves from her ever open snuff-box, will agree with us in this opinion.

A CARD.—The Ladies of the South Presbyterian Church and Society hereby express their thanks and obligations to the gentlemen of the Press, the personnel of the Tableaux, and Old Folks Concert, &c.; also, to their numerous patrons and friends, for valuable services and material aid politely rendered in connection with their Fair and Festival, at Albany Hall, on Tuesday evening last.

MARRIAGE INTENDED.—Three young men of this city, "popped the question" to their "dearies" last Sunday evening and were accepted. They had often asked before, and were as often refused. They each had this time one of Barnum's Patent Flexible Silk Hats, which made them perfectly irresistible.

Lovers! Obey that passage of Scripture which says, "Go and do thou likewise."

A sight at the White Bear free gratis.

CANDIDATE FOR COMPTROLLER.—FREDERICK WARDNER announces himself as a candidate for City Comptroller, at the ensuing Charter Election. E. L. H. GARDINER is a candidate for re-election.

THE WATERTOWN RAILROAD AFFAIR—EXAMINATION OF THE PARTIES CHARGED WITH RIOTOUS CONDUCT.—The examination of the parties charged with riotous conduct, in taking possession of the Watertown Railroad, a week ago last Saturday, and who were arrested at Watertown the following day by Chief of Police Beck and brought to this city, occupied the Police Court all of yesterday, and is not yet concluded. The parties arrested, were Judge Rose, D. C. Jackson, Geo. Patterson, S. S. St. John, Luther Moy, James P. Wood, Hubbard Atkins, John Sheahy, John F. Kennedy, Daniel Haffner, Edward Mahoney, James Connolly, and Patrick McDonough.

It will be remembered that the defendants were held to bail in the sum of $500 each for their appearance in the police court yesterday. The prosecution on the part of the State was conducted by District Attorney Mallory, and the counsel for the defence were Judge Rose, Jonathan E. Arnold, N. J. Emmons and E. Marriner.

The court room was densely crowded all day and a large number of witnesses were examined, the substance of whose testimony does not differ materially from the facts in relation the matter, with which our readers are already well acquainted. At the close of the examination of witnesses for the prosecution, the defendants, Wood, Atkins, Sheahey, Kennedy, Mahoney, Connolly, McDonough and May, were discharged by the court, as there was not sufficient evidence against them to warrant their being held upon the charge of riotous conduct. The others, Rose, Jackson, Patterson, and Haffner, are still held to bail for further examination, and the case continued to next Tuesday, when their counsel will enter into a defence.

☞ We ask attention to the advertisement of Mr. Hugh Alexander, of Chicago, Illinois, the agent of Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, for the supply of the North West at Eastern prices, with merely the addition of freight, which appears in our paper of to-day. We would recommend all who have not yet supplied themselves with this indispensable labor saving and health promoting machine to speedily avail themselves of this opportunity and make their families happy. The editor of the American Agriculturist desired to purchase a Sewing Machine, and after examining all the various styles in the market, says, "for our own family use we became satisfied that the Grover & Baker's is the best," and he accordingly purchased it.—Horace Greely in referring to this extract, writes to all of which, the Tribune says Amen. "We feel disposed," he says too, "and advise all our lady readers to make themselves familiar with the Grover & Baker's Machines, which is a reliable two threaded instrument, making a seam impossible to rip, though every third stitch be cut—less complicated and easier kept in order than any other, and adapted to all fabrics whether course or fine."

THE LADIES FESTIVAL AT ALBANY HALL.—The ladies festival for the benefit of the South Presbyterian Church, at Albany Hall, on Tuesday evening, was quite a pleasant affair, and was, we are glad to see, well attended. The Old Folks Concert was a treat in its way, and the tableaux were very beautiful, and the performances deservedly won the applause of the audience.

The refreshments too were of the best quality, as the manner in which they were partaken abundantly testified. It has been suggested that the concert be reapted, which we most fully approve of, both for the amusement of the public and the benefit of the church.

THAT ROASTED INDIAN.—A few days since, the New Lisbon Republican revamped the old story about an Indian named "John E. Kake," being roasted alive, and his remains charred to a coal. Our neighbor of the Sentinel, eager for an "item" swallowed it whole, with all details. We have seen the same thing done many a time—seen Johnny Cake roasted to crisp, and help to digest his remains.—Free Democrat.

Not quite, Mr. Democrat! Just put on your "specs" and take another peep at the Sentinel, and you will find that we did not quite "swallow it whole." The story which our New Lisbon friend tells, is about an "old half breed Indian." We were well aware that the "old Indian" to whom our contemporary alluded, was half breed instead of "half bread," and therefore we made the correction, from the fact that we never considered Johnny Cake, more than half broad.

INQUEST.—Yesterday morning a jury was summoned, and a coroner's inquest held upon the body of Peter Conrad, who hung himself in the jail, on Monday afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by hanging himself &c., in accordance with the particulars as published in yesterday's Sentinel.

FIRE.—A small frame house in the Fifth Ward, owned and occupied by Mr. Duffey, caught fire, from the chimney, between 5 and 6 o'clock P. M. yesterday. Engine Company No. 7, located near by, were promptly on hand and succeeded in extinguishing the flames before the house was much injured. About the same time, fire was discovered among a pile of empty barrels in the rear of Horschedo & Schendt's Confectionery store, on East Water Street; but was put out before doing any mischief.

The alarm of fire about 8 o'clock last evening, was caused by a burning chimney on Market St. Belt-ringers ought not to sound an alarm, until satisfied that there is a fire.

THE INJUNCTION.—The argument before Judge MCARTHUR, in the matter of the injunction against the Harbor Referees, occupied the greater part of yesterday. It will doubtless be closed to-day.

OPERA POSTPONED.—It will be seen from the notice in this morning's Sentinel, that the first performance of the Opera of the "Magic Flute," announced for Monday evening next, has been postponed one week, in consequence of the sickness of one of the leading members of our Musical Society.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.—Dennis Ryan was fined $1 for being drunk.

John Riley was brought up on a charge of vagrancy and discharged.

John Offenbecker, was sent to County Jail for 10 days for beating his wife.

☞ THE OLD CORNER.—OALES WALL has fixed up the old corner store on the S. E. corner of Wisconsin and East Water streets, in neat style, and yesterday took possession. The auction business will be conducted on the first floor and the Land Agency business of OGDEN & WALL attended to on the second.

CITY TREASURER.—HERMANN SCHWARTING, the present popular incumbent, is a candidate for re-election to the office of City Treasurer. He has filled the post acceptably, and faithfully.

MASQUERADE AT THE LIGHT GUARD ARMORY.—The series of "English Parties," at the Light Guard Armory, closes to-night with a Masquerade Ball, which promises to be an attractive and agreeable affair.

COMMERCIAL.

Milwaukee Market.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, }
MILWAUKEE, March 11, 1858. }

Received by M. & M. R. R., March 10—90 bbls flour, 4,905 bus wheat, 275 do oats, 67 do corn, 4,410 lbs pork, 6,481 do hides.

By Mil. & Hor. R. R., March 10—47 bbls flour 1,218 bus wheat, 65 do corn, 55 do barley.

The receipts of produce, yesterday, were not large, but the market was fairly more active, and the demand for milling wheat more lively. The pork packing season is drawing to a close, and the receipts of dressed hogs are fast dwindling away.

FLOUR—But few heavy sales have yet been made.—Spring extras are quoted at $3,12½@3,25 for country brands, and $3,75@4 for winter.

WHEAT—Extra club was in more active request, and our previous quotations fully maintained, although buyers are loth to come up to the scratch. We quote No. 1 at 69@69½, extra at 63@65c. A few lots were taken at the outside figures. There is but little winter wheat offered in our market. The demand is moderate at 65@75 for red, and 70@85 for extra white.

RYE—Quiet, 45@48.

BARLEY—Quiet, 86@46c.

OATS—In good supply and rather slow at 26@28.

COAL—Quiet at 30@35c in car, and 35@40c shelled.

TIMOTHY SEED—In good request at $1,25@1,50.

POTATOES—In very moderate demand, and best lots selling to retail dealers at 37½.

BUTTER—In good supply but very moderate demand, at 11@12 for firkin, and 15@18c for roll.

EGGS—Dull at 10c.

DRESSED HOGS—The receipts by railroad are small and the demand fair. Packers are paying $5,50 to $5,85 for heavy hogs. Some small lots sold to retail dealers at $6.

HIDES—The receipts are large, and the demand continues brisk at 5c and 6c for green, and 10@12 for dry. There is considerable competition, and prices are tending upwards.

The weather yesterday, was mild, with decided indications of a general breaking up.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 10.

FLOUR—We quote spring extras at a range of $3@3,75, superfine $2 00@3. Buckwheat Flour dull at 62½@75c.—Corn Meal $1@1,25 per ton.

WHEAT—Ranging from 69½@60 to store.

CORN—50c on track to distillers.

OATS—Firm at 28@28½ in store.

BARLEY—Firm at 30@45c.

RYE—Nominal at 40@45c.

HOGS—Quiet, and sales confined to supplying the city trade. We quote at $3,50@5,75.

SEEDS—Green 4½@5, dry flint 12@12½.—Journal of last evening.

NEW YORK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 10.

FLOUR—Market quiet and unchanged; sales 5,500 bbls at $4,50@4 30 for superfine State, $4,50@4 65 for extra State, $4,80@4,45 for superfine Western, $4,60@5,25 for common to medium extra do. Canadian flour steady; sales 800 bbls at $4,65@5,50 for extra. Rye flour, sales 100 bbls at 3@3,75.

PROF. DE GRATH'S ELECTRIC OIL.—Boy taken off his crutches in twenty minutes.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., July 14, 1856.

Prof. De Grath—Dear sir—My son had his foot badly cut and swollen from sticking a nail into it, and was totally unable to walk without a crutch, when, by one application of your Electric Oil, he was immediately relieved, and is able to walk without his crutch in 20 minutes. I believe he was saved from being lame thereby. I recommend your Oil to the afflicted. Yours, truly,

WOOD'S RESTORATIVE.—Of all the restoratives for the hair that have been invented, Wood's preeminently claims the first place. It will certainly restore the natural color of the hair, if the directions are followed for a sufficient length of time. It has also produced astonishing results in bringing upon a growth of hair where the head had been previously bald. Wood does not pretend that it will do this in all cases; and we think his candor is a good recommendation of the virtues which his restorative really possesses. If the roots of the hair are destroyed, no human power can make them grow again; but where there is any vitality left in the root, the restorative will soon renew the hair in all its pristine vigor. It has done so repeatedly, where all other remedies had failed. It is, therefore, worth while in all cases to make the experiment. For clearing the head of dandruff, and thinning and preventing the hair, it has no rival.—Western Farmer.

After a short session in committee of the whole, adjourned to 7½ P. M.

New Hampshire Election.

CONCORD, March 9.

A large vote was thrown at our State election to day. Wm. Haile, the present Governor, was supported by the Republicans, and Asa P. Cate, of Northfield, by the Democrats. The returns so far indicate the re-election of Mr. Haile for Governor, by an increased majority over that of last year, when he received 34,474 against 31,235, given to Mr. Wells, the democratic candidate.

FIGHT—MANCHESTER, N. H. March 9.—Some disturbance took place in the 5th ward to-day.—A party of rowdies took possession of the ward room, tore the check list in pieces, and broke one of the ballot boxes. The other two in the room were thrown out of the window and saved. Several persons were badly beaten. The assailants were democrats who were offended because Irishmen were not registered on the vote list.—After the disturbance was over, the Board re assembled and announced the election of the republican representative. Several fights also took place between the Irish Republicans and Irish Democrats. This evening all is quiet.

CONCORD, N. H., March 10.

One hundred and fifty-eight towns foot up for Hall, 28,917; Cate, 28,920.

Returns for the Legislature show 140 Republicans and 59 democrats, elected to the House.

Later from Europe.

HALIFAX, March 10.

The steamship Canada, Capt. Long, from Liverpool on Saturday, the 27th ult., arrived here this morning.

The steamship Edinburg, from New York, with the mails of the 13th ult., arrived at Glasgow, the 26th.

The news by this arrival is highly important, anticipating, as it does, the advices taken out by the Kangaroo, which left Liverpool on the 24th. The Kangaroo took out the announcement of the resignation of Lord Palmerston, the acceptance of the office by the Earl of Derby, and the formation of a new ministry.

Since that steamer sailed, a modification had been made in the cabinet by Lord Stanley, of Alderly, taking the Colonial Department from which Sir Edward Lytten Bulwer retired.

The trial of the conspirators against the Emperor Napoleon, resulted in the conviction of Orsini, Pietro, and Pierri, who had been sentenced to death, and of Guido, to penal service for life.

The Danish Ministry had resigned.

There is nothing later from India or China.

LIVERPOOL.—The breadstuffs market was quiet but without change.

Provisions had a declining tendency. Consols closed at 96 3-4@97.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was consumed by a debate on the question of excusing a member of the Committee on Accounts.

Mr. Stephens, of Ga., asked leave to present a report for the Kansas Committee.

Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, objected to the presentation of the report until the Special Committee is regularly called upon.

Mr. Stephens said that that would not be for a month; in the meantime, he should take the responsibility of presenting the report.

Mr. Coltman's volunteer bill was then taken up and passed.

SENATE.—The Senate passed a resolution to pay to the heirs of the late Senator Butler Bell, and Rusk, compensation for the Special Session to the day of their respective deaths.

A discussion took place on the resolution offered by Mr. Johnson, of Arkansas, for the printing of 10,000 copies of last year's patent report.

Immense Embezzlement in New York.

NEW YORK, March 10.

The head book-keeper of the Union Bank is discovered to be a defaulter to the amount of $100,000. The money has all been squandered at the gaming table. A warrant for his arrest has been issued. His name is Henry R. Brothers. He cannot be found; he is 38 years of age, and has a wife and child.

MILWAUKEE:

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 11.

Lecompton at Tammany Hall.

Having no available Lecompton thunder at home, the News, by way of offset to the Market Hall Demonstration of Saturday last, turns to the "great Democratic meeting in New York." The call for this meeting, says the News, "was signed by thousands of the Democracy of the great Commercial Emporium of the Western World;" and it names a number of the signers whom it thinks of more account "as lawyers, jurists, statesmen and politicians," than "J. S. Brown, O. K. Watkins, Nelson Cross, Levi Hubbell, Pump Carpenter, Dr. Heubschmann and Albert Bade." The gentlemen thus singled out for special mention have given mortal offence to the News by treating its Lecompton edicts with entire indifference, and hence its "odorous comparisons."

But touching this "great Democratic meeting in New York, the Tribune of the 5th instant refers to it as follows:

"Flaming hand bills, extensive advertisements, great efforts of officeholders, real and expectant, superhuman exertions of the proprietors of groceries, a cannon, calcium lights, music, and other aids, succeeded in filling Tammany Hall on the first anniversary of the inauguration of James Buchanan with about 600 of the unterrified, the sum total of men in this city who hope for favors at the hands of the Administration, to which may be added a hundred or two boys."

According to this account there were twice as many Democrats at the Anti-Lecompton meeting in Market Hall, last Saturday, as at the Tammany Hall demonstration on the 4th. And while those who composed the former gathering were independent men, having no favors to ask of Government, the Tammany Hall assemblage was almost wholly made up of Federal Officeholders and Office-seekers. The public will readily judge which of the two meetings is entitled to the most weight and consideration.

Party Fealty and Party Aliens.

There is going on all over the country a fearful howling among a lot of political harlequins who seems to fear proscription by the administration and the loss of democratic character. We would like to comfort these men a little, and, if it is in our power to do so with good advice, they shall have the full benefit of it. We have seen no evidence of a disposition on the part of the administration to proscribe anybody; and as for the loss of political character by the barking cure who wail and bemoan so bitterly, there can be nothing in that. Politics, we know, are very uncertain; but we don't see how men can lose what they have not, never had; and with large hopes, what we believe, they never will have.

This is the style in which the organ of the Federal Administration talks to those Democrats who dare to think, speak and act for themselves in reference to the Lecompton Swindle. Well may the independent and intelligent members of the Democratic party ask, with Mr. RYAN, "Are we JAMES BUCHANAN'S creatures, or be ours?" The insolent tone adopted by the Government organ, when speaking of those Democrats who stand by Senator DOUGLAS in the great struggle for the Right, is well calculated to excite the indignation of every Freeman. The language and the lash of the overseer will hardly persuade the American People to submit to the Lecompton Villainy.

NOT PLEASED.—Mr. MCGARRY does not seem to have been overpleased with his reception at the Democratic meeting at Market Hall on Saturday last, and rather looks upon himself as a victim of persecution. He thus details his griefs to the News and the sympathizing public:

The whole thing was managed by the pre-arrangement of the club; men were made drunk, and had instructions from head quarters what to do, and the arch-conspirators, after applying the torch, absented themselves from the Hall to screen themselves from the odium that must necessarily be attached to such base and cowardly conduct; and in order to further justify their meanness and satisfy the public for their gross violation of order and decorum. They have been circulating through the saloons, that I was impelled to pursue the course I have pursued with a view of getting some appointment. Now, in order that my friends may fully understand how to meet these tools, I wish to inform them that I am not an applicant for any office in the gift of the people or of the government. I have got enough of the public service. I have become satisfied that the men who conspired to prefer charges against me while in office, contributed to my defeat at the last election, and would have continued to annoy me if I had been successful. The same men now add insult to injury, by depriving me of the liberty of speech, after inviting me to participate in their meeting.

NEW YORK TOWN ELECTIONS.—The New York Town Elections continue to show very decided Republican gains. OSWEGO County elects 18 Republicans to 7 Democrats; ONEIDA, 17 Republicans, 1 American, 6 Democrats; MADISON, 10 Republicans, 1 Democrat; WAYNE, 15 Republicans, 3 Democrats; ULSTER, 15 Anti-Lecompton, 2 Lecompton; HERKIMER, 11 Republicans, 7 Democrats; CLINTON, 11 Republicans, 2 Democrats. As to this last County, the Ogdensburgh Journal says:

A year or two ago the Republicans elected but one Supervisor in the County. Even Plattsburgh has now elected a Republican. The victory was celebrated at Plattsburgh on the evening of the 4th by a grand jollification. The "big gun" was put in requisition, the band was out, and a torchlight procession was had. The Sentinel and Express printing offices and some other buildings were illuminated, and the affair closed with a supper at the Cumberland House, where speeches, &c., were made by several gentlemen, and the best feeling prevailed.

The four northern counties, St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Franklin and Clinton, elect 59 Republican Supervisors to 18 Democrats. How they do vote in the vicinity of the North Pole. Tecompton does the business.

PRODUCERS BANK, JANESVILLE.—This Bank is winding up its business and its officers publish the following notice in regard to the redemption of its outstanding circulation:

JANESVILLE, March, 9.

NOTICE—is hereby given, that all the circulating notes of the "Producers Bank," of this city, must be presented at the Comptroller's office within two years from the date of this notice, or the funds deposited for the redemption of such notes will be given up to the banking association aforesaid.

A. T. GRAY,
E. M. Hunter, Cashier. President.

IN LUCK.—The Detroit papers say that a widow woman of that city, a Mrs. Thomas, who has hitherto made her living by washing, has been the fortunate recipient of a windfall amounting to a million of dollars, from Europe. As the story runs, the whole estate amounts to thirty millions pounds sterling, and that there are about 150 heirs, of which Mrs. Thomas is one, and others are living at or near Adrian. Many others live in R. I. and the Eastern States. The estate is procured thro' the exertions of the "Friends' Society at Providence, R. I.

A LOOKING-GLASS FOR THE NEWS.—The Washington County Democrat, which cannot swallow the Lecompton pill, keeps this sentence standing at the head of the editorial column:

"We will say, however, that Congress cannot accept this Constitution (Lecompton) without repudiating the principles and pledges of the Democratic party for the last three years; without being the instruments for consummating a great outrage upon the People of Kansas, and upon the men who stand pledged to the fundamental doctrine that "the people shall rule."—Milwaukee News, Nov. 28th, 1857.

For the Daily Sentinel.

Lecompton Democracy.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It is amusing, if not disgusting, to perceive the desperation to which the aspiring portion of the Democratic party in our city are being driven, by the recent revolution in the political world, caused by the bold and manly stand taken by that war-horse of Democracy, STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS, of Illinois, in opposition to what he considers—and to what the great mass of the Democratic Party of the Northwest considers, as recent demonstrations have conclusively proven—a deviation, on the part of the head of this Government, from the principles and platform of the party to whom he is indebted for his elevation to the Chief Magistracy of this Republic. In the News, of Tuesday morning, I notice a brief letter from "John Horan," one of the committee on resolutions at the Anti-Lecompton Meeting of Saturday night, in which he disowns any participation or connection with said meeting, but says, "under other circumstances, he might feel honored at having his name associated with gentlemen comprising the balance of the Committee," and concludes by declaring himself in favor of Lecompton and the President. This is decidedly rich, as everybody knows who is acquainted with him, that by having his name associated with the gentlemen composing said Committee, under any circumstances, was an honor, which his position never merited. As to his declaring in favor of President Lecompton, is what was expected by those who are acquainted with his political career in our city for the last few years, as his been ideal is to be on the side of the dispensers of city, State and national pap, from the former of which, for his fidelity to the party, right or wrong, just or unjust, he has received great pecuniary considerations, and, no doubt, imagines that by following the same course as regards the latter, and stooring straight in the foot prints of the hirelings here, he may yet ascend, or in the proper application of the term—descend to the goal of his ambition. It is, then, such men, whose every political act tells so favorably upon their pockets, that are the ardent supporters of Mr. Buchanan's Kansas policy, here and elsewhere. Will our Irish fellow-citizens, of whom Mr. Horan is not a too influential one, endorse such a policy as that about to be forced upon the freemen of Kansas, in the face of such political tergiversation on the part of the President and his hirelings?

Most assuredly not. Those of them who resided with us in the days when Wisconsin was a Territory, as Kansas now is, have not so far forgotten the deep anxiety, attendant upon the occasion of framing and adopting, by their votes, the Constitution under which they were to live and be governed, as to lend their voices, or their votes, in favor of any man, or set of men, who would dare, in this enlightened age, in a land so reputed for its Republican form of Government, to force upon the people of Kansas, or any Territory of the U. S., a Constitution, in the adopting of which the residents thereof had no voice, while they enjoyed that benign privilege, that inheritance bequeathed to them and their offspring by the founders of the Republic. Why is it that so many of us have been forced from the land of our birth, our parental homes and firesides—from everything that in youth and manhood seemed so enchanting, in the Old World, to emigrate to America in search of what we have been deprived of in our native land by British tyranny and misrule? Was it that we might find a more genial climate, or that we had become tired of friends and relatives, and the lonely graves of our sires? Methinks I hear the myriads of my countrymen on this continent answer No! but that they might participate in those blessings which the doctrine of Popular Sovereignty confers upon the down trodden of every clime, the champion of which is Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois. He has stood by us, and to return let us stand by him, despite the Administration and its underlings—despite office expectants and office cormorants—and by so doing, we will have discharged our duty to our country and our God!

The President is welcome to the support of Mr. Horan, and as many more of a like stamp as may be found—which I know are very rare to meet with in Milwaukee—to further his Kansas policy and to rivet the chains of Slavery upon the necks of its oppressed people.

Yours truly,
AN ANTI-LECOMPTON DEMOCRAT.

The Pacific Hotel Mystery.

The investigation into the causes of the burning of the Pacific Hotel at St. Louis, is still going on in that city. A number of witnesses have been examined, but as yet nothing has been proven to implicate any of the persons charged with the crime.

The mysterous circumstance is the death of Doane, one of the lodgers. He evidently died from a wound in the head or neck. From the manner in which the blood streamed over his person, he must have been in a sitting posture, after it was inflicted. This wound was made before the fire came near him. He was fully dressed, while the other bodies found were partially clothed. He was the only corpse found in his bed, all the others were in passages or near doors in the act of escaping, but he evidently made no such attempt. His pocket-book and money were not found on his person, though everything else was undisturbed.

The friends of the accused try to reconcile these facts by two suppositions—either that Doane committed suicide or that he was killed by a falling timber, but neither are satisfactory. The Democrat says:

Taking the body by itself, felony is very strongly suggested. Taking the fire by itself, the suggestion is even more strong. Any other hypothesis than that of arson is scarcely conceivable. No accidental cause of the fire has yet been seriously assigned; it began at some distance from any stove or stove-pipe, and where no lights were carried. It swept too suddenly and swiftly to have sprung from the spark of a cigar, or any similar slight cause. Yet in this, as in the former case, there is no demonstration. Accident may have caused the fire.

That such a fire should be caused by accident, is possible. That such a death as Doane's came by accident, is possible. Each apart from the other is very improbable. That the two accidents occurred together, is faintly possible, but is exceedingly improbable.

National Anti-Lecompton Convention.

The Philadelphia Press, seconding the proposition started by the Anti-Lecompton Democracy at Indianapolis, for a general Mass Convention at Chicago, says:

"Let the people take the matter in hand, and by their prompt response to the call, give that hearty approval which must strike alarm into the hearts of those who are covertly striking at the dearest rights of American freemen. Let the Keystone State be among the first to signalize her sympathy in this important movement. Let State Conventions co-operate to send their strongest men. Let Douglas, the "Chevalier Bayard" of the united Democracy of Illinois; let Wise, of Virginia, the foremost son of that ancient and revered Commonwealth; let Stanton, of Tennessee, whose pen and tongue have unwaveringly championed the cause of the people; let Barney, of Kentucky, who can fitly illustrate the memories clinging to "the dark and bloody ground;" let Walker, whose course has kindled admiration in every true Pennsylvanian's heart; let Bancroft, whose name, all the world over, is inseparably associated with our national history and literature; let Broderick, the gallant exponent of the unanimous sentiment of the Democracy of the Golden State; let Stuart, whose vote and whose voice have added laurels to the glory of the Peninsular State;—let these lend their commanding presence to honor the Mass Convocation of the People."

It was thought that the Anti-Lecompton Convention, which was held at Columbus, Ohio, yesterday, would take some definite action in favor of this proposed general Convention at Chicago.

FIRST DISCOVERY OF MAPLE SUGAR.—In Dodsley's Register for October, 1765, it is stated that "a method of making sugar and molasses from the sap of a certain tree called maple, common in the New England Colonies, has just been discovered and put in practice at several portions of New England, but especially at Bernardston, about 20 miles from Athol."

XXXVth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, March 9.

SENATE.—Mr. MASON, of Va., moved for the further consideration of the bill for the relief of Com. Jones. A discussion ensued and the bill was passed.

The bill for the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution was then taken up.

Mr. Hamlin, of Me., said that no subject of equal importance had been considered since he had had a seat in the Senate. He regretted that it had been a party question; and there was no despotism on earth like party despotism. He had felt it but thanked God he was a free man now. In all the record of time, but one act of similar turpitude had ever been attempted. He had no eulogy to bestow upon the Union, it needed none. Its eulogy is written in the past. He then replied to the statements of Mr. Hammond, arranging his remarks under three heads.

First, The faith of the South, and how she kept it. Second, The capacity of the South as a distinct and separate government. Third, The character of the laboring masses of the North. He said in speaking to these points, he should be compelled to use the term South, put into his mouth by the Senator from South Carolina. But in his heart he knew no South, no North, no East, no West; we are citizens of one common country. The North means to stick to the Union; they don't mean to go out of it neither. He denied that the North ever broke its plighted faith and said he was at a loss to know what the phrase the faith of the South meant. That section had broken Legislative faith with respect to tariffs by attempting to break down the North after it had invested its capital in manufactures.

With reference to Mr. Hammond's question, what guarantee have the South that the North will not establish another national bank? Mr. Hamlin asked, what guarantee has the North that the South will not saddle them with a national bank. Indeed, he expected to see the day when the South would seek protection in a tariff.—He then contested at length the modern doctrines of the South that the general government was founded on the principle of slavery, which he contended was an abandonment of the principles of her fathers. Proceeding to the Missouri Compromise, Mr. H. said that was the work of the South. She was jubilant over its success; the North generally acquiescing. Who repealed it after reaping its benefits? The South. This is a fine instance of Southern faith. He then reviewed the Dred Scott decision, saying in conclusion that the judges who gave it to the world rank in infamy on the pages of history with Jeffries. In reviewing the history of the admission of Texas, he said she was admitted on the basis of the Missouri Compromise without which she could not have been admitted. The North was induced to vote for it because she was told that north of 36° 30 lat. in that Territory she could have three free States. The South obliterated that line in 1854. Was that good faith?

Analizing the present character of the Democratic party, he said it was now in the leading strings of a few Southern men. South Carolina rules it. Calhoun's resolutions offered in the days of compromise, then scouted from the Senate, were now the governing principles in Congress. Nullification now reigns supreme in that party. It has got the House, the Senate, the President and the Supreme Court. The Democracy had even improved upon these principles, and were about to declare, in passing the Lecompton Bill, that white men have no rights they were bound to respect. Mr. Hamlin controverted Mr. Hammonds assertion that there were more poor people in the North than in the South, contending that in the latter, notwithstanding the large number of its paupers were thrown upon the North, the poor portion still predominated. In support of their position, he quoted from Southern writers, including Mr. Hammond himself. He next passed to the consideration of Mr. Hammond's assertion, that the white laborers of the North were slaves. He said that the Senator entirely misapprehended the character of Northern laborers. He (Hamlin) was a laboring man. He was educated in a printing office, and now toiled in his fields, earning by the sweat of his brow the food that he ate. Another Senator, and his friend, was a laborer. They are representatives of the laborers of the North.

Without concluding, Mr. Hamlin gave way to an executive session, after which, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the consideration of Mr. Quitman's bill.

Mr. Faulkner, of Va., was opposed to sending volunteers to Utah, and believed if they were placed at the disposal of the Executive, he would not have occasion to use them. He thought the proposition for the employment of volunteers dictated by outside pressure rather than a conviction of sound policy.

Mr. Keitt, of S. C., discussing the Constitutional power to admit new States, defined his views of political government, contrary to the views of some of his friends, that the people of Kansas cannot change their Constitution prior to 1864.

Mr. Clemens, of Va., asked how Mr. K. reconciled that declaration with the expression in another part of the Lecompton Constitution, that the people have a right to alter that instrument. [London paper.

Mr. Keitt—a general declaration in the bill of Rights is like a preamble,—and is restricted by the body of the bill itself. As to the admission of Kansas into the Union, if the Republicans tell the South that no Slave States shall hereafter be admitted, they will shake every pillar of the political Union, should this policy be carried into effect. No Federal tax-gatherer would ever again tread the soil of the South. When the work of incendiary, propagandism and revolution begins, this Union will end. It may be in blood.

Mr. English, of Ind., alluded to assaults upon Northern Democrats, who voted against the Kansas Nebraska Bill. They risked everything, while the South risked nothing. He appealed to Southern gentlemen whether they would for the sake of a shadow—for an empty triumph—risk a dear one to such friendly strainings. It would enable Northern Democrats to maintain the union and integrity of their party at home. It is untrue that the Democratic non-slaveholding States are opposed to the admission of any more Slave States. He did not know one, and whoever asserts to the contrary, grossly misrepresents the Northern Democrats. He earnestly wished to sustain the President on Kansas, and hoped something would turn up that would enable him to do so. The Lecompton Constitution, he said, does not embody the will of the people of Kansas. They do not want it fastened upon them. Why then attempt it?

The President had said that the Constitution should be submitted to the people. While the friends of the Lecompton Constitution upheld one doctrine, he (English) was for carrying out what he believed were constitutional principles. If he was stricken down for that, he should retain his self-respect, and have the high authority of the President in falling in defence of correct principles. His political reputation was not tainted with Free Soilism, with that of Van Buren and Dix, who are now, foremost in advocating Lecompton. If all reasonable compromises are voted down, he should vote against the admission of Kansas under that Constitution.

Mr. Phillipps, of Pa., proceeded to show that the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution is regular, according to established principles. He also contended that the Constitution recognized the right of the people to change it whever they choose. Those who deby that fall into error.

Mr. Stephens, of Ga., suggested a night session, but Mr. Washburne objected, and the House adjourned.

The Great Breach of Promise Case.

This case (Rolt v. Fardell) which has for some months past excited the most intense expectation in the fashionable world, was made the subject of some proceedings in Mr. Justice Erle's private room at Westminster, on Tuesday. The damages are laid at the enormous sum of £80,000, ($145,000); and up to the present moment the plaintiff has firmly rejected all offers which have been made for the settlement of the case out of court, preferring to go for trial.

The application to Mr. Justice Erle, on Tuesday, was made by Mr. Cleasby, on the part of the defendant, to have the trial postponed until the month of June, on an allegation that the defendant's mother, Mrs. Fardell, who is a material and necessary witness for the defence, was not in a fit state to undergo the excitement of an examination. A medical deposition was produced supporting the allegation; but as it did not state any particular period when the witness would be able to be present, the application was not complied with, but adjourned until Wednesday in the ensuing week, for further hearing, with an intimation from the judge, that if the lady should not sufficiently recover her health her testimony could be taken under a commission, and the case, therefore, stands adjourned for trial until Friday, the 12th inst.

The defendant was ordered to pay the costs of the application, which for the number of witnesses subpœned and the peculiar nature of the case for the plaintiff, will be considerable.

With reference to the case itself, which is so anxiously looked forward to in the fashionable and clerical world, a number of aristocratic and titled acquaintances of the plaintiff will give evidence respecting the fickleness of the fair defendant. Among these will be the Hon. and Rev. O. F. Spencer, Brother of the present Lord Churchill; his lady, the Hon. Mrs. C. F. Spencer, who is the defendant's only sister. The Rev. J. H. Sparke, both canons of Ely, and sons of the late Bishop of Ely, together with many of the superior stars of fashionable life.

Amongst other notabilities of the bar, Sir Frederic Thesiger has been specially retained for the defence.—Lloyd's (London) Newspaper, of Feb. 7th.

A Thrilling Scene.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer

Mr. Thomas Kingston, who for several years has followed the business of putting up lightning rods, which, of course, requires steady nerves and a firm brain, met with an accident recently, by which but for the most singular presence of mind, or rather, supernatural instinct, he would have fallen from a dizzy height, and been dashed to pieces. He is compelled to climb roofs, over chimneys, and up spires, and fix a rod, with perfect coolness and precision, hundreds of feet above the level of the earth.

On the occasion to which we refer, Mr. K. had ascended St. Paul's Cathedral, whose spire is about two hundred and thirty-five feet high, near the head of Broadway, and gone to the very top, where having left his ladder below, he clung by his arms and legs, fastened the last foot of the rod and attached its point—quite a heavy piece of metal—securely, as he supposed, to the cross surmounting the steeple. He had just completed this difficult and dangerous task, watched by a number of persons in the street below, and while looking at the work and experiencing that satisfaction which results from hazard passed and labor accomplished, of a sudden something heavy struck him and made his brain reel until he could hardly see. Instead of losing his hold at once, it would seem to have been the natural and inevitable result, he clung with a power beyond himself and a will superior to his own, closer and instictively to the spire. He knew not what had occurred, and to his confused senses it appeared that the steeple was tumbling; or that some strange cause was about to bring the vast structure to the ground.

Some forty seconds—an age to him—must have elapsed before he sufficiently collected his scattered thoughts and subverted consciousness to know that the entire upper part of the rod had fallen upon his head, causing the blood to trickle over his forehead, and almost blind him. He was in a dreadful perplexity and a most dangerous position. He feared, if he moved, he would go clearing the air to a terrible death upon the stony street below—and at the same time he knew he could not, in the disordered state of his nerves, and his increasing weakness, retain his grasp, more the result of fate than of feeling, much longer. If he turned he might fall; if he remained he certainly would; and so determined to make at least an effort for his life, he put one foot very cautiously, then his arms and then moved the other foot; and after half a minute of exertion, and the greatest danger, he touched the topmost round of the ladder, and in a few seconds more was inside of the steeple safe.

Then it was Mr. K's great courage and strength forsook him; his nerves and muscles relaxed; he grew sick unto death; his knees gave way; his vision swam, and he sank upon the platform motionless and insensible. He must have lain there half an hour before he could rise and walk, and he did not recover from the shock for more than a fortnight afterward.

The people gazing up at him from the street describe the scene as painful and exciting in the extreme. When they observed the rod fall, a thrill of horror ran through their hearts, and two women swooned away, for they expected to behold him the next moment dashed to pieces at their feet. Destiny had ordered otherwise, and Mr. K. still pursues his dangerous avocation; but he says if he were to live a thousand years he never would forget the intense horror of those century like moments, when he seemed to hang upon the air more than two hundred feet above the earth, and to be momentarily descending to a dreadful death!

HONOR TO AMERICAN TALENT.—We learn that the prize of ten thousand rubles, offered by direction of the late Empeor Nicholas, for the discovery of a reliable remedy for the diseases which inflict women to such an extent, has been awarded to the Graefenberg Company, an institution in the United States of America, located in New York. Dr. Bridge, the physician of the establishment, who wrote the report, and who prepares the medicine (which is called Marshall's Uterine Catholicon,) has been elected a fellow of the Imperial College; and we understand that similar honors will be offered him here. We have seen a letter from some of our most distinguished physicians, highly complimenting his medical attainments, congratulating him on the honor he has achieved for the Graefenberg Company, and requesting some of the Catholicon for use in their practice. We could have wished that his honor had been gained by our eminent physicians who competed for the prize; but, failing that, we had rather it would belong to our transatlantic descendents than the distinguished French and German physicians who also endeavored, though unsuccessfully, to prove that they had a remedy which would answer the purpose.

The diseases in question—Falling of the Womb, Whites, Deranged Menstruation—and the long train of difficult and distressing symptoms consequent upon them, have long baffled the best efforts of medical science. It is here, in this country, that they have been most frequent and intensly in America, that a successful remedy should come from there; and it is doubtless owing to Dr. Bridge's admitted superiority over all other physicians in that disease of diseases, that he has been enabled to bear off the palm from all competitors in his own country."—London Paper.

MARSHALL'S SKILL TRIUMPHANT.—A private medical establishment in New York, America, (The Graefenberg Company,) has borne away the prize offered for the proof of a successful remedy for Falling of the Womb, Whites, Disorders of Menstruation, &c., &c., though French, German and English Physicians of eminence have all contended for it. We understand that our leading physicians and medical colleges, with that magnanimity characteristic of true greatness, have ordered a quantity of the Remedy—Marshall's Uterine Catholicon—which will be forwarded as soon as enough can be made to spare what we need from the great and increasing demand in the United States. The world-wide reputation now given to this Remedy by the above award, is well deserved by its great value, as we have most abundant testimony to prove.—French Paper.

AFFIDAVIT.

I, AARON HACKLEY, Recorder of the City of Utica, N. Y., certify that I have examined several ladies of this city, of the highest and most unexceptionable character, who have testified that they had been afflicted for years with Falling of the Womb, Whites, Deranged Monthly Periods, Discharges from the Uterine Passage, and symptoms connected with them, such as loss of appetite, nervous affections, disturbed sleep, weakness in the back, loss of flesh and spirits, pain in the back and kidneys, difficulty in passing water, coldness of the extremities, trouble in the stomach and bowels, variable appetites, nausea, irritability and fretfulness, headache, palpitation of the heart, chills and flushes of heat, great anxiety, pain in the shoulders and spine, dizziness, restlessness, blotches, fatigue in the legs, general pains and troubles, more particularly at the time of the menstrual period. In all of these cases the skill of the best physicians had been exhausted in vain. One physician, of thirty years' experience, testified to me in his own edge of the truth of these symptoms; and the substantiating testimony of the ladies that MARSHALL'S UTERINE CATHOLICON entirely cured them, after the failure of every thing else.

AARON HACKLEY, Recorder of Utica.

The above should induce every one afflicted to try the remedy.

TO MOTHERS.

When young girls between the age of 13 to 16 years are troubled with cough, nervousness, deranged digestion, and have a pale face and various other symptoms of disease, Marshall's Uterine Catholicon will arrest the disease and restore the rose hue of health. Many of these cases are called consumption even by the attending physician; but experience has proved that they are not so, and that they will all recover under the influence of the Catholicon. The seeds of consumption are unfortunately often sown at that period of life, especially when the mens real is unfruitful in those pleasures and fatal disease may be, and often is, averted by the Catholicon. The kingdoms of this earth cannot be bought for gold.

Women afflicted with any of many other diseases, consumption, debility, or troubles following abortions and childbirth, can be cured by addressing a letter, or describing it to Dr. Bridge, Secretary of the Institution.

Dr. Joshua F. Bridge, the Secretary of the Graefenberg Company, is a regular physician. He has devoted fifteen thousand rubles to the diseases of women and children, in which, as well as in difficult chronic diseases, he has been very successful, and obtained a great reputation; and he will give his personal attention to letters from those who are desirous of being cured promptly. A detail of the symptoms will enable him to judge correctly of the case and the probability of a cure. He has superintended the preparation of the Graefenberg medicine for the last few years, and he will personally guarantee a their purity and value.

Marshall's Uterine Catholicon is unhesitatingly offered as a remedy for all those diseases which, if not the direct cause of so many women's untimely graves, trouble almost every one, and from which no one is entirely exempt. Abundant and reliable testimony assures us that it needs no puffs.

Marshall's Uterine Catholicon, of which nearly 1,000 bottles are sold weekly, will certainly cure Falling of the Womb, Whites, Suppressed or Painful Menstruation, Bleeding, Inflammations and Diseases of the Kidneys or Urinary Organs, Retention or Incontinence of Urine, Heartburn, Costiveness, Nervousness, Faintings, Palpitations, Cramps, Disturbed Sleep, and all troubles, organic or sympathetic, connected with the uterine organs.

The price of Marshall's Uterine Catholicon is $3.50 per single bottle.

On the receipt of six dollars, five bottles of MARSHALL'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, for proper medicines for any case, shall be forwarded to any part of the country, free of express charges. Address

Secretary Graefenberg Co., No. 32 Park Row, N. Y.

HEALTH OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

WE have given place in the columns of our paper to several letters from Dr. Bridge, of the GRAEFENBERG COMPANY, to our most eminent physicians, upon the subject of the diseases to which American Women are so liable, and we now desire to call attention to the following, which is taken from the Pittsburg Daily Gazette, a leading journal of the Western States:

From the Pittsburg Daily Gazette, Feb. 17—Editorial.

"We are pleased to be able to report an event like the following, which is so complimentary to the progress of science in our own country. We are informed that the Graefenburg Company have been most liberal in disseminating their valuable remedy among those of limited means, and that Dr. Bridge spends much of his time in gratuitous consultation with the afflicted. Such men deserve the practical rewards of science and deep study, which we again congratulate them upon receiving."

Almost too Romantic to be True.

From the Shippensburg (Pa.) News.

For some days past considerable excitement, has been felt in some circles in this community in reference to an affair in human life, the particulars of which we cannot permit to pass by unnoticed. So far as we have been able to gather the facts of the case, they appear to be as follows:

About three years ago, George Fry, of this vicinity, became enamored of a beautiful Gipsey girl, who, in company with a number of her people, had encamped in a wood near this place.—Mr. Fry's love was fondly reciprocated by the fair Gipsey, and she consented to marry him. But "true love never did run smooth," and so it happened in this case. The consent of the father of the lady could not be obtained to her marriage with "a man not accustomed to gentility!"

However, "Love laughs at locksmiths!"—When Mr. Fry found that he "could not win the favor of the old folks," he set about planning ways and means to steal the object of his affections. In this he was not unsuccessful. One night, when the hard hearted old man was wrapped in the arms of morpheus, and all around was lonely and drear, Mr. Fry approached the camp of the wanderers, and was met by her for whom his heart had long in agony sighed! After fondly embracing her, he solicited her to accompany him, without delay, to a village a few miles distant. Without hesitation she complied with his request, and on the following day they were married. " " " The rage of the old Gipsey, when he found that his daughter had "eloped," can better be imagined than described! Nothing could soothe his temper save the return of his child. In vain he sought for her. Nothing could be heard from her.

Finally, when he found that he himself could find no trace of her, he offered a heavy reward to the person who would discover her whereabouts, and in the presence of several "kidnappers" he exhibited large quantities of gold and silver which induced them to make the effort, and a few evenings after, in a most inhuman manner, they accomplished their object. In the absence of Mr. Fry they wrested her away and delivered her over to the hands of a father unsusceptible of the divine feelings of love. Immediately the entire group of Gipsies fled from the country. Rumor said that they had returned to England, from whence they hailed.

* * * * *

Two years noiselessly glided by, and nothing was heard by Mr. Fry from his absent wife, although he long cherished the hope that she would escape from her "tyrannical parent," and return to him whom she loved. Time, however, gradually rusted Mr. Fry's love for his Gipsey wife. He felt that it was "not good to be alone" so long, and at the end of two years he again united his destinies with another of Eve's fair daughters. Suffice it to say, with the latter he experienced no visible difficulty. Things moved smilingly along—Mr. Fry lived happily with his wife and the rest of mankind. But, alas! how short-lived are some connubial combinations!—Last week Mr. Fry's first wife—his Gipsey wife—in company with "George Fry, junior," arrived in this place in search for him! By the assistance of officer Shade she was successful in finding him.

Limited space forbids us from entering into details at this time of the excruciating suffering Mrs. Fry had undergone since her departure from this place. The intelligence of her husband's second marriage was a severe shock to her, but she emphatically declares her exclusive right to him. It appears, by the way, that Mr. Fry's second wife was "a widow," that her husband went to California some years ago, and soon after his arrival there it was rumored that he was murdered. A few weeks since a letter was received from him by her, we have been informed, in which he states that he will return in the next steamer, etc. What the finale of this romance will be is beyond the power of human ken.

A STRANGE HISTORY.—Fiction has her marvelheroes, but now and then some plain creature of every day fact surpasses them in romantic adventure.

In 1855, a young man was arrested at Cleveland, on a charge of passing counterfeit money, and on evidence which many thought insufficient, was convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary. He was brought to Columbus and incarcerated; but it was not long before he effected his escape, and successfully eluded pursuit. He fled without daring to show himself to any one, until about thirty miles from the city, when, spent and famished, he ventured to apply at a house rather remote from others, for shelter and food. Both were promptly afforded him. The poor woman who dwelt there alone with her two children, was true to the generous instincts of her nature, and admitted to hearth and board—not the escape convict, but the weary, hunted, hungry wretch, who claimed from her that boon

"Which all the happy to the unhappy owe."

He rested and refreshed himself; and when he again set forth upon his wanderings, she gave him a suit of citizen's clothes. Thus disguised he traveled northward; until within a short distance of Cleveland, when he obtained work, and earned forty dollars, which he sent to the woman who had saved him. He then went to New York, engaged in business, and prospered. Still he remembered his benefactress, and recently she received from him three hundred dollars.

The truth, meanwhile, came to light. It became apparent that he was guiltless of the crime with which he had been charged; and had suffered for a sin he had never committed.

A petition, signed by the Judge who had found him guilty, and sixty-six members of the Cuyahoga bar, and unsolicited by the members of the Legislature from that county, was sent to the Governor, praying for the pardon of the escaped convict.

Here a difficulty arose. He could not be pardoned as long as he was not in the custody of the State. He was communicated with; and came to Columbus, within a few days past, and gave himself up to the Warden of the Penitentiary. He was once more placed in the prison, and the key turned upon him.

There his pardon was handed to him, and he came forth—not more guiltless than before—but certain in his liberty and the esteem of his fellow men.—Cor. Cincinnati Gazette, March 5th.

DOMESTICKS GETS MARRIED.—We've taken a partner for life, and I've got a wife. In my room a pair of brown gaiters occupy the corner where our boot jack used to hang, and we flatter ourselves that I've make a good bargain in the exchange. I now take a renewed interest in the price of beef, and we bully the butcher with the air of a respectable married man. We buy my potatoes now myself, and we are not to be easily bamboozled out of my spare change by anybody. But I am not a "malefactor," and I did not go on a "train." We have finished all my "trains," and I henceforth claim for ourselves the name of a sober and correct individual. Beer we will not take into my mouth, and our lips shall be sealed when the festive 'cocktail' would tempt me to indulge—nor shall the social 'cobbler,' or the genial 'julep,' or the seductive 'smash' induce me to fracture our resolution. Ourselves is the best judges of the proprieties of my domestic life.

Triangle, avaunt! Jonce, get thee behind me! Merewight aroint thee! Tyng, my jolly joker, not even with thou will I take our accustomed 'nip.' 'Ill 'W. B.' we esteem thee as my friend and our joycose contributor, but thou and I, Henry, have taken our last 'swig' from your little private wicker bottle. Delmonico's shall know us no more, and at Maturan's shall I never again comfort myself with my mid-day sherry, which did so much refresh us. Depart from us, Arnald! tempt me not.

THERE IS SAFETY IN HOOPS.—On Sunday a woman in attempting to cross the river above the mill dam, upon the ice, broke through, and was soon struggling in the water. Two persons observed the accident who were some distance away, and were some time in reaching the—as they supposed—drowning woman. Upon arriving at the scene of the accident, they found the lady bowyed up by her ample skirts, and in not any imminent danger, except from the chilliness of the cold bath; from which they soon extricated her. There is no doubt, however, that if she had worn the old fashioned skirt, she would have drowned. Let it not be said after this that there is no virtue in hoops.—Janesville Gazette.
